Brendan Brown Lecture Series Presents

ROBIN P. MALLOY
E.I. White Chair and Distinguished Professor of Law Syracuse University College of Law

“ADAM SMITH IN THE COURTS OF THE UNITED STATES”

TUESDAY, APRIL 6, 2010
4:30 P.M.

526 PINE ST., ROOM 405
COLLEGE OF LAW
BROADWAY CAMPUS
RECEPTION TO FOLLOW.

ROBIN P. MALLOY is the E.I. White Chair and Distinguished Professor of Law at Syracuse University College of Law and Director of its Center on Property, Citizenship and Social Entrepreneurism. Malloy has authored eight books and more than 30 articles on market theory, real estate transactions, disability law, and law and economics. These works have been translated into Chinese, Spanish, and Japanese. He has also edited seven books and has served as a series editor for Cambridge University Press, Ashgate, and Edward Elgar. Malloy’s casebook on real estate transactions coauthored with James Charles Smith is used at law schools across the country. Malloy is also a leading expert on the application of Charles S. Peirce’s semiotics to the study of the relationship between law and market economy.

Malloy has been a Sun Life Research Fellow at Oxford University, U.K.; a Dickenson Dees Fellow at University of Durham, U.K.; and for three consecutive summers has served as a teaching fellow in China (Beijing and Shanghai) with the Committee on Legal Education Exchange with China. He currently serves on the International Advisory Board for the Law and Economics Program at St. Gallens University, Switzerland, and is the 2010 chair of the Standing Committee on Research of the Association of American Law Schools. He is also a past chair of the Association’s sections on Real Estate Transactions, and on Law, Culture and the Humanities. He is the founding president of the Association for Law, Property and Society.

The Brendan Brown Natural Law Institute, established through the generosity of the late Professor Brendan Brown, sponsors a major annual lecture, colloquia, and other scholarly activities in keeping with Professor Brown’s love of natural law and scholarly discourse.